

Dr. Agnes Setyowati H., M.Hum.
Faculty of Social Sciences and Humanities, Universitas Pakuan

Dr. Agnes Setyowati H., M.Hum. is currently active as the lecturer of Faculty of Social Sciences and Humanities, Universitas Pakuan. In 1994, She completed her undergraduate program in English Literature Department, Universitas Pakuan. She then completed her master degree in 1998 and received her doctoral degree in 2014, in Faculty of Humanities, Universitas Indonesia in 2014. Her expertise is in literature and Cultural Studies. Her research interest is on representation and cultural identities. She has also been active as the Head of Indonesian Literature Scholars Association-Bogor (HISKI) since 2015 and a member of the Indonesian Association for Nusantara Manuscripts (MANASSA).

Email : agnessetyowati@yahoo.com

Paper

The Role Of Women In Applying Strategies To Prevent Radicalism Movement: Case Study Of 5 Women Religious Communities In Bogor

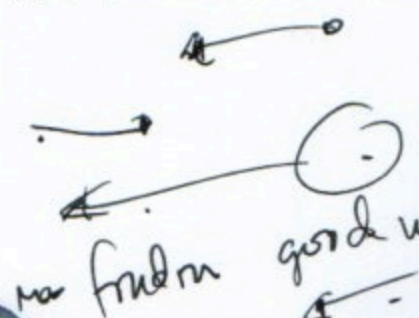

Dr. Inayatillah, M.Ag.
Lecturer at Faculty of Social Sciences and Public Administration at Ar-Raniry State Islamic University Banda Aceh (UIN Ar-Raniry)

Dr. Inayatillah, M.Ag., is a lecturer at Faculty of Social Sciences and Public Administration at Ar-Raniry State Islamic University Banda Aceh (UIN Ar-Raniry). She also serves as director of Center for Child and Gender Studies UIN Ar-Raniry. She graduated Bachelor and Master degree in Islamic Studies from Ar-Raniry State Islamic University Banda Aceh and Ph.D. in History and Islamic Civilization from University of Malaya, Kuala Lumpur. Her interests mainly related to the themes of woman, child protection, and indigenous knowledge. She has published a number of papers journal such as: "Women's Marginalization from Public Spaces: The Case of Aceh", Asian Women Journal, (2011); "Doda-Idi and Indigenous Knowledge: Children Character Building Through the Acehnese Spoken Arts", Advanced Science Letters, (2017). She is currently researching on: "Revitalization of Lullaby Traditions in Aceh Society" (2017). E-mail: inayatillah.ar@ar-raniry.ac.id

Paper

The Role of Mother in Internalizing Anti-Radicalism and Tolerance Values to Children in Aceh

Are the respondents

ma findm good model of trace

what kind of (abstract)